Your advantages in detail

Top-of-their-class candidates from our career network

The e-fellows.net MBA Day gives you the chance to present your career opportunities to German top candidates. They are sourced from the e-fellows.net talent pool consisting of Germany's best students and professionals. All of them have an explicit interest in career opportunities for MBA graduates. Our extensive pre-selection measures ensure that participants' qualifications and interests match your high standards and lead to mutual benefit.

Preparation and service by e-fellows.net

Ahead of the event, you will receive the CVs of candidates interested in a 20-minute interview with your representatives. You can choose up to 14 candidates (10 online).

Intimate atmosphere, online format

Our MBA Day includes an introduction round, one-on-one meetings and a chance for you to meet personally with candidates at the open forum/networking sessions. The number of participating business schools and companies is limited – all are selected based on their global brand and fulfill the standard of excellence. After the event, participating schools and companies receive the contact data of all attendees.

Upcoming events (on-site or online)

Munich: Saturday, 11 March 2023
Special Online, Thursday, 29 June 2023
Frankfurt: Saturday, 14 October 2023
Hamburg: Saturday, 4 November 2023

Our MBA Day strategy for the (post) Covid era

The actual scenario is that we are back on-site 2023. However, in the past months we have successfully implemented hybrid events (with some schools physically and some digitally attending) and many pure online events. You can read on our website why they are "3,000 times better than other online events" according to feedback from our customers.

- ▶ We are currently planning on-site events for 2023, keeping in mind that our first priority is safety for everyone involved.
- ▶ However, should circumstances make it necessary, we will adapt our plans accordingly and continue with our successful online implementation. We will inform you in this case well in time before the start of the event preparation.
